

Fractional Reserve Banking Begat Faux Reality

Trust is the foundation for all social contracts. Lose trust in a spouse and you will lose your marriage. Lose trust in a politician and you will elect a better candidate. Lose trust in your government and nations will fall. Trust is based upon information, therefore the ultimate power over humanity, is based upon control of information.

We are all heavily invested in our government, by taxes and by presumed security benefits. Conspiracy theories are deemed not credible by the simple fact that there are SO many of these supposed conspiracies. When confronted with such a broad based violation of trust, it is easier to dismiss the obvious conflicts as just coincidence. But coincidence is no longer believable when the final connecting link becomes apparent.

“Motive, means and method” are the classic tools of the detective in dealing with crime. To solve the greatest crime in history requires knowledge of these three elements and the very small force of elites that are in actual control of these elements. The arrogance of this power structure is often displayed in the cryptic naming of their pet projects. “Outcome Based Education” is mind control for the “outcome” of the few, which is tyranny over the many.

The most fundamental power of government is the creation and control of the money system. The excellent history of the now completely bankrupt world monetary system is chronicled in The Creature from Jekyll Island by G Edward Griffin. Centuries ago, clever bankers were able to manipulate the inbred, degenerate crown heads of Europe into repeated wars using borrowed money.

The bankers were invested in the war industries and were able to profit directly. In addition, since the bankers ‘loaned’ the funds at pre-war values, they were able to market these ‘war bonds’, destroy the under lying currency and leave the bond holders with worthless paper. History repeats itself because this pump and dump Ponzi scheme has proven so successful for this tiny elite syndicate that they cannot control the temptation to repeat this cycle endlessly.

America offered a break with this feudal power structure for a time. A vast continent with uncontrolled resources offered incentive and necessity required invention. The great spark of human ingenuity responded with an outpouring of creativity and knowledge. But the potential to harness this power for the benefit of the few constantly emerged. After repeated attempts and failures, the world controlled banking elite finally got control of America’s monetary system in 1913 with the passage of the Federal Reserve Act.

It is impossible to reduce Griffin’s 600 page text into a paragraph, but the basic concept of this fraud is simple. The Reserve Act grants a private syndicate the right to loan money on the ‘fractional reserve’ system. A bank deposit of $10 allows a ten-fold loan potential of $100 for the syndicate to loan. The syndicate ‘creates’ the money for this loan and is further granted the power to PRINT US currency, giving the bankers ‘bailout’ protection.

The taxpayer is then further obligated to 'insure' the 'investments' of the bankers, who by law are 'too big to fail', even at the risk of national bankruptcy. With the fundamental parameter of trust, the money system, based on a lie, it became necessary to sustain this system with a complete system of lies.

To do this required the 'outcome based' Faux Education system of lies. Eventually this system got too large to hide. The Faux Commodity Market to sell useless Carbon Credits was based on Faux Science, but in addition required a Faux History pedigree. Here is a brief analysis of the combined Faux Science and Faux History of the world's greatest fraud.

Why Would Wood Worry Warmists ?

It's not nice to fool Mother Nature, a recent Madison Avenue ad campaign reminded us. Indeed, it is impossible to fool Mother Nature for any length of time, for she holds the ultimate trump card, empirical evidence. No fanciful hypothesis can stand the test of time without physical proof. If data collection and hypothesis formulas are made public then independent review and physical evidence will determine "truth".

Nature and independent analysis are providing increasing evidence that the warmist hypothesis of carbon dioxide climate forcing is the worst abuse of science in all history. The sole purpose of this faux science was to create a world-wide tax and control of energy use in what was to be the greatest extortion scheme imaginable. Climate science was to be the under-informed and possibly unwitting bagman in this heist.

To present the illusion of "settled science" this fraud required historical provenance. The sole creator of the 'carbon warming' hypothesis is Svante Arrhenius, but when the patriarch of your movement can be rightfully described as the 'Grand Dragon of the Swedish Ku Klux Klan', you have an image problem. This bigot issue could be negative factor to the core liberal and minority support base, so Faux Science need the help of Faux History to pull off the scam.

Anachronisms are the nemesis of poor screen plays. Warmists have intentionally distorted the history of greenhouse gas hypothesis to obfuscate the arrogant, racist character of the true founder of this hoax, the erroneous Arrhenius. The warmists have wrongly claimed that failed hypothesis was first proposed by Fourier and supported by Tyndall. We will examine the evidence that disproves these lies.

We begin by establishing the timeline of the supporting science. The supposed mythical power of atmospheric carbon dioxide is to capture Outgoing Long-wave Radiation (OLR), heating itself and then ‘re-radiating’ this energy back to Earth. Dr Matthias Kleespies has done an excellent history summary of the science of radiation posted here [1].

The only addition would be the discovery of the Infra-red spectrum, by Sir William Herschel in 1800 and called “Calorific Rays” for the invisible heat that it produced. Herschel’s discovery was followed in 1801 by Johann Ritter’s discovery of “Chemical Rays”, later called ultra-violet.

The Faux History version of Greenhouse Gas (GHG) Hypothesis blames the origins of this fraud on Fourier & Tyndall. The original transcript to Fourier statements are posted by Australian Geologist Timothy Casey here [2] and the original published experiment for Tyndall here [3]. Casey’s end comments on the Tyndall experiment are noteworthy in that Tyndall did NOT measure absorption but instead, opacity.

The basis of the GHG hoax is radiation absorption and redirection which Fourier and Tyndall had no knowledge of as Dr Kleespies article explains, and there was limited knowledge of the periodic nature of atoms until decades later. A largely correct outline of the history of the GHG Hypothesis as offered by Dr Vincent Gray here [4] with a few additions.

Fourier had no knowledge of nuclear fission energy or the massive amounts of energy released by this process. He assumed that all internal heat in the Earth was residual from creation and stated that he had calculated this total annual amount of out-flowing energy world-wide to have the capacity of melting a one meter square base block of ice that was three meters high.

Arrhenius was certain of his claims because “we have temperatures aloft gathered by balloonists”. Considering the limitations of data it would be hard to form complete correct analysis. Arrhenius was quickly proven wrong on his predicted values by fellow Swedish scientist Knut Angstrom. In 1909 Stanford professor, Dr Robert Wood, conducted physical experiments proving that even the concept of ‘radiative trapping’ was erroneous. That experiment has been recreated using modern methods with the same result by Dr Nasif Nahle. [5]

The GHG lay dormant for decades only to be revived to support a Faux Commodity Market called “Carbon Credits” and again requiring government enforcement. Again, the clever bankers used “other people’s money” to fund their scam. The recently disclosed “legalized insider trading” practiced by Wall Street traitors and Congressional turncoats shows how this is done.

The Congress allows itself to be informed on pending Wall Street actions and to be exempt from the same laws that sent Martha Stewart to jail. A 'no cost to them' tip by Wall Street insiders to vultures on Pennsylvania Avenue allows them to bribe all 535 members of Congress instantly and simultaneously. This soon develops into a Pavlovian relationship where the 'too big to fails' have complete control of the dogs in the peoples house.

The S & L crisis, Enron, World Com, Dot Com, Fannie-Freddie and TARP are not aberrations, they are REFLECTIONS of the underlying system of fraud. Understanding this 'means' explains the motive and the methods. It is the creation of a Faux Reality that has allowed these crimes to go undetected. All of the wars, depressions and genocide of the twentieth century stem from these defective elites and their defective banking system.

The once respected Prime Minister of England, Winston Churchill should be rightfully remembered for his direct involvement in the sinking of the Lusitania as a pretext to draw America into a European banker created First World War. The war to end all wars was a bank fraud in disguise. These same bankers created the Bolshevik Revolution, the rise of the Third Reich and Mao's Long March.

You are then faced with only two realities. Either hapless humanity stumbles from one expensive bloodbath, blindly to the next expensive bloodbath....or....a powerful elite carefully stage-sets, directs and PROFITS from endless human carnage. Despite his repeated, unforgivable crimes in this nightmare, it is fitting to close with a paraphrased quote from Sir Winston in describing soviet Russia....[emphasis by author]....

"It is a riddle wrapped in a mystery, inside an enigma...all locked in a paradox.

The paradox is the elitist controlled world money box.
