

Penn Pied Piper Plays Laureate

It's been such an exciting week in the Climate Comedy Club that many may have missed the important news items going on at the other Circus-and-Bread Entertainment Complex venues. There's the mock drama posing as a presidential election, as described in "Rice-A-Romney...that MUST have Zombie Treat"....with the shocking truth that neither potential Puppet in Chief wants to play with the clima-clowns on this round.

Instead, the former pro-climate Save-Humanity-by-Hyperbole Party candidate has been advocating that women 'vote like their private parts depended on it', which brings up some interesting mental images as one approaches the polls. Outspoken sock puppet for this controversial issue, renowned contraceptionist, Sandra "Fluffy" Fluke recently staged a save our condoms rally.

Fluffy managed to gather the ten remaining sexually-active, non-menopausal, heterosexual women still left in the Hyperbole Party into a Jiffy Mart parking lot for a group photo. To capture the 18 – 22 female demographic that may have been in junior high for the last ballot, Hyperbole Party hack, Lena "Pander" Dunham produced a panting simulation of the cherry popping effect of pulling Barry's lever.

Sadly, the SHH Party was been fully engaged in a wonderful 'frame the First Amendment for mob violence' script, when things went suddenly off-script. Faced with yet another, massive, gunrunning operation gone wrong, the SHH hacks hacked the Truth. The CIA was holding a recycle your AK-47 Jamboree when somebody spotted a cell phone video on the internet, excitable fanatics then ditched the planned rotten tomato throw, and instead, used REAL mortars and RPG's.....[wink, wink].

There's no comedy in incompetence that caused casualties, and there is no acceptable apology for the lies and gaffs our leaders delivered to the families of the fallen. It is not hyperbole to demand that this cabal of defective mental mind-set elites who see, then structures reality for self profit, leading to infinite destruction, be removed from power. Enough of politics and world events, it's now off to this week's Climate Comedy events.

Mann, the Pied Piper of Penn, went off, half-cocked again, this time filing suit against master wordsmith Marc Steyn, for some slight about Penn crimes. Mann's big oil and tobacco based legal team did a superb job of judicial rigging by filing in a DC court, and by lucky coincidence, got a green judge, literally Judge Natalie "Greenie" Combs-Greene. This black robed eco-zealot has a questionable record of impartiality and will be accompanied by a pre-rigged jury of DC eco-zealot government employees.

Damaging this case is the hilarious subject of this newsletter, which involves the Pied Piper and a bogus Peace Prize, but first some other Climate Comedy news. Perhaps with the hopes of saving the Hyperbole Party, the front group, Frontline, henceforth referred to as Affront-to-mind, or simply Affront, produced a science smear documentary to assist the POTUS who promised to "restore science to its proper place" into supporting faux science again.

In an off-teleprompter moment on the Jay Leno Show, this “smartest ever” POTUS admitted there was a homework subject or two he couldn’t help his daughters with....yeah....like anything above seventh grade MATH. This goes a long way into explaining the nation’s budget and economy problems. And every trained scientist knows, there is no math more confusing than green math.

Since this fearless leader has the same knowledge of science that we have of his birth, college, passport and previous work history, he’s earned the title “Blank Slate” Barry. His current opponent has been firmly on both sides of the issues and rightfully known as “Flipper” Mitt. To confront the BS Barry ignorance, the “Affront” effort was to reintroduce the talking points in a documentary called, “Climate of Doubt” with host, John “Hockey-bear” Hockenberry.

Centerpiece of this science-free science smear was octogenarian Dr Fred Singer, who was selected as the voice of deniers. Hockey-bear managed to get Singer on tape singing about the Freon fraud, the ozone hoax, the acid-rain myth, the second-hand smoke fable and finally...that CO2 did not control the climate. The white-bearded Singer was the perfect Santa Clause for LIBERAL ICON DENIAL presents.

To balance this obvious extremist non-warmist, was hot-hyperbole peddler Dr Andrew “Debateless” Dessler with his plea for a POTUS FOIA pardon. Affront included a short clip with creationists, Dr Katharine “Hottie” Hayhoe and Dr E Calvin “Coolin Cal” Beisner from an upcoming episode of Evangelical Family Feud. Affront accosted other public enemies, like Heartland Institute and Competitive Enterprise Institute for daring to challenge the fascist principles of public ownership and public control of everything.

Affront featured a national debut for novice reporter at the National Journal, lovely, preppy, Smith College English major, Coral “Big Bird” Davenport. Most English majors have limited math/science skills, so some may wonder how Big Bird jumped from restaurant reviews to ‘Energy and Environment’ snoop with just a brief stop at Politico. What can we say other than it is the business of comedy to be absurd !!!

Next up at the Climate Comedy Show was the pending doom of Frankenstorm Sandy !!! This now tropical storm threatens to tip a few umbrella tables in Georgetown, so NSA and FEMA are in full panic mode. Over at Forecast the Facts, better known as “Fauxcast by Flacks”, the head of hyperbole, Brad “Blowhard” Johnson has been bloviating on the Earth ending omen that his foretells. It appears that this Halloween trick or treat may be downgraded to Frankensprinkle Sandy.

More DC drama unfolded as Senator Inhofe disclosed that the Eco-zealot in Charge of the EPA, Lisa “Jack-up” Jackson and her team of weasels had been working so hard to produce new regulations to jack up the cost of every form of energy, that they missed over a years worth of Congressional oversight reports. Exposing economically damaging, proposed regulations prior to elections is apparently not provided, or demanded, in our form of representative government.

Now back to the title and main subject of this newsletter. Pied Piper Mann, in his lawsuit against Steyn and CEI, declared himself to be a Nobel Prize recipient. Inquiries to the semi-noble Nobel revealed that the “prize” hanging in the Pied Pipers office was at first to be a fraud. Nobel then clarified, saying it gave one each to Al “Gore-Leone” Gore, of Gore-Bull Warming Productions, and one to his sidekick at the IPCC.

That IPCC sidekick is none other than the former railroad engineer and steamy romance novel writer, Dr Rajendra “Randy” Pachuri. It now appears that Randy was handy in the mystery Peace Prize photo-shopping spree. Truth is stranger than fiction, and you can’t make up the rotten facts of our reality. An army of misfit semi-scientists and half-wit Lilliputians bureaucrats are lashing humanity on our use of energy.

Breaking news is that the Pied Piper is pulling his Nobel posts, along with pulls by Penn and the greenie flacks at Wiki. The National Science Foundation, or “NSF Affront” is the rubber stamp front group for the government control faction, and they have a public policy limiting resume enhancement, as supposedly most universities do. Can you say....”former professor Mann” ? ? ?

Meanwhile, Circus-and-Bread Productions has completed their domestic-to-neighbor gunrunning operations and switched to destabilizing every former Middle East ally/puppet, who are now targeted for overthrow. They have completed the de-industrialization of a once powerful nation and are folding the remaining stage props.

In a world were fewer and fewer things are free, one must enjoy these laughs while we can. If you do not take these kinds of action by our government seriously, then they will certainly act to reduce your negative comic feedback. When there is nothing to laugh about, but you think you can laugh at the feds...then there will certainly be a new Laugh Tax....Happy Halloween !!!

Joseph A Olson, PE
Oct 28, 2012

<http://www.FauxScienceSlayer.com>