

Epic Zombie-Robot Battle Emerging

Thick green goggles and decades of 'outcome based education' have had the desired outcome. We now have a large population of Earthlings who are blind enough and ignorant enough to fall for the "Super-sized Chicken Little & Falling Sky Trick". A carefully groomed herd of Malthus-Nihilist Zealots, also known as the Mother Earth Zombies is being tortured on the internet thought plain by hoards of rational thinkers, whom they label the "Deniers".

These, Zombie feared Deniers, are in fact an odd alliance of traditional method scientists. To rally the Zombie faithful against this rational, but anti-AGW heresy, the Deniers are presumed to have the magical forces of being "anonymous, well-funded and coordinated". A great tag line for Zombie propaganda, but as noted by Aeschylus in 525 BC, "In war, the first casualty is Truth", as we shall soon see.

Deniers cannot just anonymously quote scientific facts and have meaningful effect. The "open and repeatable" clause in the Scientific Method requires that we provide supporters and opponents with the sources of our objections and our qualification to make counter claims. We are well-funded only in knowledge and our motivation to support Truth. Deniers coordination is limited to bickering with each other over details of applied science by email and snippets posted as comments on each other's blog sites.

Arrayed against the Deniers is a near all-powerful Zombie support network. This includes the Prestige (Dinosaur) Press, the Ivy League (Diploma Mill) Universities and the all-knowing, all-caring Omnipotent Federal (pending World) Government. All of these Zombie control forces are under command of the Feudal Banking Elite which we will discuss later.

The battle unfolds as the Zombies occupy all of the Ivory Towers, all of the cloistered college castles and power of the royal purse. The Dinosaur Press has nearly lulled the entire planet into a comma with the constantly repeated mantra "Man is killing Earth". The grade school logic therefore requires that you must kill man to save Earth.

Some Earthlings still subscribe to that biblical "shall not kill" commandment thing and mass extermination can become unsightly. The death by a thousand cuts becomes preferable to the feudalists, who will destroy your education, your job and your self reliance which will then to force you to accept voiceless serfdom.

We will return now to the battles in the Zombie Occupation and a major turning point, the breach of Castle Hadley and capture of the secret CRU weapon systems. Castle Hadley was under command of Prince Phillip Jones, an admitted hapless administrator, who's gatekeeper one night left the keys to the castle within Deniers reach. One of the secret CRU weapons discovered was the "Decline Hider", which could magically produce a hockey stick curve from any set of random generated numbers. Losing this was a powerful device has caused constant Zombies nightmares.

The breach of the Castle Hadley gate was soon called ClimateGate and was followed immediately by Zombie cries of...“out of context, stolen documents”....and this was followed by the inevitable stealing of Deniers documents. When placing these out of context proved insufficient, the Zombies just fabricated the needed context.

Prince Phillip was given two royal whitewashes and restored to his castle only to suffer an addition breach just two years later. This later disclosure, known as ClimateGate 2.0 placed the ClimateGate 1.0 material in a wider context showing intentional fraud. The greater Zombie nightmare is that 50 times the currently released material is now just one password from full disclosure.

The Zombies are confronted by the Denier Alliance which includes a number of factions. The Peiser-Delingpole Brigade operates out of the UK. The McIntyre Highlanders are headquartered in Canada. The Singer-Spencer-Lindzen Coalition is in the Eastern US and the most feared, Watts Robot Division is based on the previously thought invulnerable US West Coast. Meanwhile, the Nova-Hughes Aussies skirmish with warmists down under. Scattered about the globe are the highly independent and Mercenaries for Truth, authors of the science text, Slaying the Sky Dragon, and are self described as “Slayers”.

The Slayers have deployed a number of high tech devices including the Radiation De-generator. This device simply destroys the notion that CO₂ molecules can capture and redirect any form of energy back to warm the Earth. The Slayers Unidirectional Flux Device uses traditional Thermodynamics to prove that heat can only flow from a warm Earth to a cool outer space. The Thermal Mass Lance did puncture the Zombie claim that 28 gigatons of human CO₂ controls the temperature of 259 trillion cubic miles of mostly molten rock.

Some elements of the Zombie Army recently breached the hardly guarded Heartland Hostel. Only the most deluded of Zombies could consider this tiny refuge for free thought a fortification, none the less, one Zombie did. This true believer fashioned a digital disguise of a Heartland board member, feigned lost documents and pulled off the cyber high-jinx of the decade, well in his own mind.

Now armed with nearly useless proof of Heartland conspiracy this Zombie was required to fashion his own bombshell, deliver this bomb to himself, and then share with the entire Zombie Army. For this he wheeled out the most unlikely of new age weapons, the Gleickian Catapult. With this weapon he was able to hurl his crudely fashioned and Epson scanned, Heartland Strategy Bomb over his own transom.

The Heartland Strategy Bomb was constructed with the same level of expertise as the failed shoe bombs and the underwear bombs which have proven effective only to the users feet or gonads. The spectacular failure of this device did injure the inventor and this one time only tactical use of the “surprise look what came over the transom” is of no future combat value.

The failure of the Gleickian Catapult has caused collateral damage. One bastion of Zombie strength has been the co-opted professional science societies. The cyber high jinxster was also the chairman of the powerful American Geophysical Union Task Force on Scientific Ethics. The failed Heartland bomb forced removal of this EPA funded advocate, but the AGU responded quickly with his replacement.

Dr Linda Gunderson, Director of the Office of Science Quality and Integrity for the US Geological Survey, and fellow AGU TFSE board member was moved into the vacant top spot. Therefore the seamless “continuity of government” oversight on the philosophical direction of science can be maintained...lest you think that big brother might be forced to recuse itself over ‘ethics’.

If elements of this story are absurd to the point of hilarious, then the reader is well enough aware of current events to place these defects in their real context. In 1913 a bare quorum of Congress granted ultimate power of all banking and monetary supply to a small group of private banking interests. The results have been a century of staged warfare, depressions and genocide.

In this (hopefully) satirical work I chose to call supporters of Anthony Watts as “Robots” as an absurd extension of the currently used warmist phrase “Watts Hoards”. While hoards may strike some fear into the lifeless Zombies, their greater fear is attack from the equally lifeless ROBOTS. Use of these terms is for ‘artistic license’ only. I have an original printed copy of “Is the US Surface Temperature Record Reliable” written by Anthony Watts, with funding clearly credited to Heartland Institute, copyright 2009. Nothing could be more transparent in the way of disclosure.

I consider this Watts/Heartland document pivotal to my understanding of the depth of deception involved in this climate farce. I am a daily guest at the Watt’s Up With That website and make frequent, unedited comments there. Anthony’s followers are a bright, diverse group with contributions that have earned his site “Most viewed website on Global Warming” in the world.

I have had frequent private email exchanges with Anthony and consider him of the highest quality in both knowledge and motivations. To that extent, I would gladly ignore my minor technical differences with Anthony and proudly declare that I AM A TRUTHBOT, following First Principle Science regardless of divisions among the warring camps.

The whole point of satire is to stretch the absurd facts of reality just enough for it to appear funny. The underlying point of satire is to show the very real dangers of the absurd left uninterrupted. Allowing a private banking cartel to use Fractional Reserve Banking has inflated the real monetary supply ten-fold. The solution has been to use the US Treasury printing power to offset this shortfall with cartel supplied counterfeit greenbacks. That game has reached its limits, so the only remaining cartel solution is to reduce population by 90% to “fit the real money limit”.

If you consider genocide one of the behavior's that humanity should not engage in, then you must educate yourself and fellow Earthlings of this very real potential. I advise reading “Fractional Reserve Banking Begat Faux Reality” at my website for a start. If you are baffled by science, then at least read the “Faux History” tab for information on the other supporting roles in this massive fraud. For the entertainment only junkies, there is a special “Satire” tab with more of this irreverent heretic perspective.

Point of Reference....20 years ago Rush Limbaugh listeners were labeled “mind numbed robots”....a term Rush began immediately using to affectionately describe his audience. 10 years ago Bush supporters were labeled “Bushbots” with no discernable loss of support. Name calling is a typical ploy in politics....and in humor.
